

THE INFANT & YOUNG CHILD NUTRITION PROJECT PRESENTS

Maximizing Nutritional Benefits from Agricultural Interventions

AT THE GLOBAL HEALTH COUNCIL'S 37TH ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

MONDAY, JUNE 14, 2010

5:30–7:30 PM

CAPITOL ROOM

PLEASE RSVP TO: INFO@IYCN.ORG

Join IYCN for a seminar on building positive nutritional impact into agriculture and food security interventions. The seminar will highlight key aspects of agricultural interventions that influence food security, and specific project elements that can help to maximize nutritional benefits.

Participants will gain familiarity with new planning tools for adding nutritional objectives to agricultural initiatives, and for assessing pre-intervention, probable nutritional impact among vulnerable groups in order to avoid negative outcomes.

Photos: PATH/Jay Ward; PATH/Evelyn Hockstein; Philippe Blanc; WFP/Riccardo Gangale